

Artist of the Month

Lise Aissen

I grew up on a beautiful, small island (59 square miles) in the Indian Ocean literally half way around the world from Carmel. It is fitting that I would end up in Monterey Bay with beaches, white sand, rocks, trees, and flowers. These subjects are a large part of my life experiences.

For many years I commuted from Marin County to work in San Francisco - crossing the Golden Gate Bridge many many times a week. I love painting the bridge and still cross it a few times a year.
